Absentee voting underway, May 13 last day to request paper ballots for primary

The primary election is now less than two weeks away and early voting has now begun on two fronts--from those who have to vote via absentee ballot and others who will be out of the county on May 20 and chose to vote on the voting machine at the County Clerk's Office.

The number of absentee ballots actually cast was about normal compared to most past local elections. According to County Clerk Shelia Booher, as of last Thursday, May 1, 178 absentee ballots had been mailed to voters who cannot vote at polling places on election day with 95 having being returned. A total of 20 persons had cast ballots "in-house" by absentee on the voting machine, or just over 100 official absentee votes cast with a little less than three weeks prior to election day.

In the 2010 county-wide election, some 470 people voted absentee--231 people voting by paper ballot and another 239 on the voting machine in the clerk's office.

The 2014 May primary will see some 7,557 registered voters eligible to cast ballots in Clinton County. Of that total, 6,102 are registered Republican, 1,339 Democrat and 116 "other" party registrants.

A moderate to heavier than usual turnout is expected at the polls in Clinton County during the

Lake Cumberland reaches summer pool level

For the first time in years, local lake enthusiasts and tourists alike visiting Clinton County's Grider Hill Marina and other local access points for Lake Cumberland, will be enjoying a "full pool" of water this summer.

Lake Cumberland surpassed elevation 723 feet last week assuring the recreation season will begin with the reservoir at its historic summer pool level for the first time since 2006.

That information was confirmed last week with a press release to the Clinton County News from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers district office in Nashville, Tennessee.

Approximately three inches of rain fell in the local watershed over a 72 hour period last week causing inflows into Lake Cumberland to spike. The lake was expected to crest slightly above elevation 727 feet sometime Saturday.

The Lake Cumberland level has been reduced since 2006 when a drawdown occurred while repairs were being made to stop leaks in the mile-long concrete and earthen Wolf Creek Dam.

Levels went as low as 680 feet during the period while construction crews were busy on the work platform building a new concrete barrier wall that extended as deep as 150 feet below the bedrock that the dam was originally constructed upon.

The water level in the lake rose to elevation 724 feet last Thursday morning, which is four feet above the current upper Southeast Power Administration (SEPA) curve at elevation 720 feet.

The upper SEPA curve is a lake water

True bills include one related to March shooting incident

A Clinton County man charged in connection with the shooting of another local resident has been indicted by a Clinton County Grand Jury, which met in regular session last Thursday, May 1.

Jonathan M. Blaesing, 42, of Albany, was charged by the grand jury for assault first degree, a Class B felony that carries, if convicted, a sentence of 10-20 years in prison. The true bill alleges that the defendant "...engaged in conduct which created a grave risk of death or caused serious injury to Danny Kennedy when said defendant shot him with a pistol."

The incident occurred Sunday night, March 30 at approximately 8:37 p.m. The Clinton County Sheriff's Department responded to the call to 155 Martha Stockton Road in response to a shooting incident at that location.

Sheriff Rick Riddle and Deputy Josh Asberry were the first on the scene and determined that

Little Kentucky Derby has sunny skies, plenty of action

Friday marked the annual Early Childhood Center's Derby Day with the running of the stick horses. For several years, the ECC has set aside time on the Friday before the Kentucky Derby as a chance for the students and parents to move the classroom outside for a little physical education, as well as teaching the young students about Kentucky's signature sporting event.

This year's feature had seven races, one of which resulted in a tie, or "dead heat" and forced a run-off race in order to have six clear winners, one from each kindergarten class.

Above, Mrs. Lisa Smith's class saw several horses make the way toward the finish line. Middle right, students awaited their turn near the track Friday as the races got underway.

Bottom right, the Clinton County High School Band, under the direction of Doug Sell, came out to play "My Old Kentucky Home" and the call to post at the beginning of the seven races.

Winners for each class included, Dakota Denney - Mrs. Tammy Cook's class, Addison Weston - Mrs. Jamie Cooksey's class, Jayden Adkins - Mrs. Jackie Frye's class, Jaxon Albertson - Mrs. Tracy Goodman's class, Jagger Dalton - Mrs. Tiffany Norris' class, Marcus Riddle - Mrs. Patricia Riddle's class and Zackary Marcum - Mrs. Lisa Smith's class.

And they're off . . .

Saturday's Family Fun Run and 5K Run for the Roses was a fantastic success for it's inaugural year.

Sponsored as a fundraising event by the Clinton County Healthy Hometown Coalition, the event saw some 365 participants involved in the two sponsored events, a 1K Run/Walk as well as a 5K Run.

Healthy Hometown Coordinator April Speck told the Clinton County News that she was thrilled by the number of participants in the event, as well as the number of volunteers who showed up to help with the race.

Funds raised by the effort are targeted toward the purchase of new playground equipment for Mountain View Recreational Park.

In honor of Firefighter Appreciation Day, special thanks to our local volunteer firefighters for all your hard work and dedication to our community. We appreciate all you do. Thank you and may God bless and keep you.

Clinton County ATC students raise $102 for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

Wolf Creek opens up powerhouse for public tours

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Nashville District is offering the public free guided tours of Wolf Creek Powerhouse on Lake Cumberland.

Approximately 45 minutes in length, tours are scheduled for May 24, June 21, July 5, August 16, and September 6. The tours start at noon Central Time.

Registered participants are required to check in at the Powerhouse entrance gate located at the end of Dam Rd., Jamestown, KY 42629 (near Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery) 10 minutes before the tour start time.

Tour size is limited and is on a first-come, first-served basis. All guests including minors are required to submit a request form at least seven days prior to the tour and receive an email confirmation from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Nashville District Security Office.

To obtain a tour request form and to learn more about the tours rules and details, please call (606) 679-6337 or visit the Resource Manager's Office at 855 Boat Dock Road Somerset, KY 42501.

Forms can also be obtained at the Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery 50 Kendall Road. Jamestown, KY and from any Corps operated campground on Lake Cumberland.

Also forms can be requested and sent via e-mail at LakeCumberland@usace.army.mil

School Board has special 'workshop' meeting

Clinton County Board of Education held a somewhat lengthy special meeting Monday afternoon at the Central Office board room. However, there was no action to be voted on.

The session, which began at 4:30 p.m., was a work session for the board members to review and discuss important upcoming issues pertaining to the school district with no votes being necessary.

Superintendent Charlotte Bernard and board members conducted a workshop on three issues, including the 2014-15 year budget, direct deposit and school facilities.

Following discussion on those issues, the non-action meeting was adjourned, with the next regular meeting of the school board being scheduled for next Monday, May 12 at 5 p.m. at the Central Office. The meeting is open to the public.

80th birthday celebration

All friends and family of Melvin Buster are invited to celebrate Melvin's 80th birthday with him on Saturday, May 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Albany First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. Please join him for cake and punch as we celebrate this special occasion. No gifts please, but cards will be fine. 30-2p

May term of Clinton Circuit Court held

A term of Clinton Circuit Court was held last Thursday, May 1 with Circuit Judge David L. Williams presiding

The following are cases in which some type of final resolutions, i.e. sentencing, plea agreements, were made, ruling issued or trial dates scheduled:

* During a pretrial conference, a plea agreement was reached in the case of Commonwealth vs. Patrick O. Taylor.

The Commonwealth recommended amending the charge of persistent felony offender first degree to second degree and upon a plea of guilty to the lesser charge and theft by deception, the defendant would receive a seven and one-half year sentence to serve, and run concurrent with cases in Logan, Simpson and Warren counties.

Final sentencing is scheduled for June 12.

* Sentencing was held in the case of Commonwealth vs. Tony Lowhorn, pursuant to a plea agreement reached on April 3.

The defendant pled guilty to theft by unlawful taking with a five-year sentence imposed, probated for five years with supervision. The sentence shall run concurrent with another Clinton Circuit Court indictment and he will receive credit for time served and pay restitution. A charge of criminal trespass third degree was dismissed.

* During a pretrial conference a plea agreement was reached in the case of Commonwealth vs. Sylvia Janette Ferguson.

The Commonwealth recommended dismissing the charges of failure to use child restraint device (two counts), operating a motor vehicle while under the influence first offense and failure to maintain insurance. Upon a plea of guilty to two counts of first degree wanton endangerment, the defendant would receive a four-year sentence on each count to run concurrent, probated for four years with supervision and she will be assessed by the Social Services clinician for long-term rehabilitation.

Final sentencing has been scheduled for June 12.

* During a pretrial conference, a plea agreement was reached in the cast of Commonwealth vs. Vanessa M. Ferrell.

The Commonwealth recommended dismissing the charge of possession of drug paraphernalia and upon a plea of guilty to possession of a controlled substance first degree the defendant shall receive a three-year sentence, pre-trial diverted for three years, supervised.

* During a revocation hearing in the case of Commonwealth vs. Richard Luttrell, charged with burglary second degree, assault second degree and persistent felony offender second degree, the defendant acknowledged that he abscounded, which was a violation of the conditions of his probation. The court directed his probation be revoked. The defendant will receive credit for any time served.

* Sentencing was held in the case of Commonwealth vs. Bobby Wayne Pillar, pursuant to an agreement being reached on April 3.

The defendant pled guilty to escape second degree with a five-year sentence imposed, probated for five years with supervision. He shall receive credit for time served and be assessed for the Clinton County Drug Court Program.

* During motion hour, a trial date of June 3 was set for Joseph Paul Coop, charged with receiving stolen property and two counts of second degree persistent felony offender.

* During a pretrial conference in the case of Commonwealth vs. Robert Leslie Smith, charged with theft by unlawful taking, receiving stolen property under $10,000 and three counts of first degree persistent felony offender, another pretrial conference was scheduled for June 12 and a trial date set for July 15.

* During arraignment, in the case of Commonwealth vs. Kyle Matthews, charged with third degree burglary and fourth degree assault, a pretrial conference was set for July 10 and a trial date for September 10.

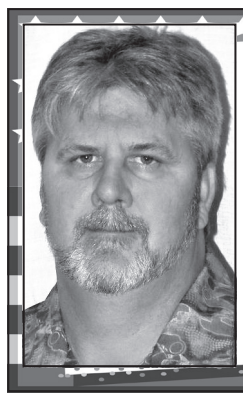

* During a pretrial conference in the case of Commonwealth vs. Ashley McCusker, charged with first degree possession of a controlled substance first offense, the trial date scheduled for May 20 has been continued, with a pretrial conference set for August 14.

* During a pretrial conference in the case of Brittanie L. Thurman, charged with criminal mischief first degree, the trial date scheduled for July 9 has been continued, with a review set for September 11.

* In the case of Commonwealth vs. Michael Stearns, charged with possession of a controlled substance first offense and possession of drug paraphernalia, scheduled sentencing was continued until June 12.

Several other cases were on the docket last Monday, with other cases being continued for review, post-trial court dates scheduled and some defendants were arraigned, entering not guilty pleas and having pretrial conference dates scheduled.

Hell Will Be Full Of "Good People"

Only pardoned sinners will be in Heaven. Jesus says: "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick. The Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."

His cross, His blood, His righteousness,
My hope, my only plea,
My sins deserve Eternal Death
But Jesus died for me.

God Must Punish Sin

Every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward (Heb. 2:2).

My Sin Has Been Punished

The Son of God loved me and gave Himself for me. God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us (Gal. 2:20; Romans 5:8).

Pardon is only for those who acknowledge their need of it. David said unto Nathan, "I have sinned against the Lord," and Nathan said unto David, "The Lord also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die" (II Sam. 12:13).

Christ appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself; and as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment; so Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many, and unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time apart from sin, unto salvation (Heb. 9:26-28).

Condemned Awaiting Execution

He that believeth on Him is not condemned, but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God (John 3:18).

Pardon or Wrath

He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life, and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him (John 3:36).

Spring Forest Fire Hazard Season ends

The spring forest fire hazard season in Kentucky officially ended on April 30. Despite the recent heavy rainfalls, 1,171 wildfires have burned more than 35,613 acres in the state since the first of the year.

Most of these fires were due to arson; in fact, more than 60 percent of wildfires in Kentucky in the last five years have been intentionally set.

Citizens who have information or witnessed suspected arson activity are asked to call the nearest Kentucky Division of Forestry office, Kentucky State Police post or the Target Arson Hotline at 1-800-27-ARSON.

Outdoor burning can lead to wildfires. Before conducting any outdoor burning, citizens are advised to be familiar with the applicable regulations.

Citizens should contact the Division for Air Quality, the Division of Waste Management, as well as the Division of Forestry and local fire departments to ensure that they are complying with all outdoor burning laws.

Wildfires are less likely during the summer months but can still occur if conditions are dry.

For more information about fire hazard seasons, outdoor burning laws and safe burning practices, visit the Division of Forestry's Web site at forestry.ky.gov.

Legislative Update

by Kentucky Senator
Sara Beth Gregory
16th Senatorial District

Wrapping up the 2014 legislative session

By Sara Beth Gregory, 16th District Senator

Now that we've reached the end of the 2014 session of the Kentucky General Assembly, I wanted to take a moment to thank you for contacting me during the session to provide input on issues that are important to you.

I believe the 2014 Budget Session was a success for a number of reasons. We passed a fiscally responsible budget that helps meet the needs of the Commonwealth while being good stewards of tax dollars. We passed a number of pieces of legislation aimed at improving the health and well-being of Kentuckians of all ages. Of course, there are also disappointments from the session, as the Senate passed several good bills that the House of Representatives did not approve.

Below is a brief outline of some of the major issues addressed during the 2014 Legislative Session:

Budget

After much negotiation, a fiscally-responsible budget was passed that contained a debt ratio and structural imbalance lower than those proposed by the House and the Governor. The budget is education-friendly, providing close to $6 billion for SEEK appropriation for K-12 funding, salary increases for public school teachers and staff, more funding for school technology, and an expansion of preschool services. The budget also provided additional funding to hire vocational school teachers and provide scholarships to college students. The final budget also prohibits state general fund dollars from being used to implement Obamacare and approves the first pay raise for state employees since 2008.

Health Topics

To help protect some of our most vulnerable citizens, we passed Senate Bill 98, which I sponsored, to create an adult protection registry. This bill will expand the current background check process for nursing homes and adult-care providers by allowing employers to check whether a prospective employee has a history of abuse substantiated by Adult Protective Services. The Cabinet for Health and Family Services (CHFS) will maintain the registry, which will be a new source of information for those looking to hire caretakers for seniors or disabled adults.

We also took a number of steps to help to protect the health and well-being of our children. For children who suffer from sometimes debilitating seizure disorders, we passed Senate Bill 124, allowing doctors at Kentucky's two university research hospitals to prescribe cannabidiol to patients who suffer from seizure disorders. This treatment is designed to be one more tool in the toolbox for children with epilepsy to help enhance their quality of life.

Another step to protect our children came with the passage of Senate Bill 109, which prohibits minors from purchasing or using e-cigarettes.

Additionally, Senate Bill 118 will allow for one additional prescription for eye drops to be filled every three months, allowing children to have these drops available at school at all times. This also recognizes that drops are often wasted when administering them to children. These drops are critical to those suffering from glaucoma, which can become sight-threatening if the medication is not administered as directed. And finally for our school children, we passed Senate Bill 159, which will provide greater access to school-located and Head Start-based dental care programs.

Finally, we took steps toward easing the shortage of physicians our state is currently facing by passing legislation to expand services provided by nurse practitioners and physicians' assistants. Under Senate Bill 7, experienced, advanced-practice nurse practitioners can prescribe non-narcotic drugs without having a contract with a physician. This will be especially helpful to improve access to care in rural areas. In addition, Senate Bill 41 allows broader authority for physician assistants to execute medical orders, while still requiring ten percent of the medical notes written by a physician assistant be countersigned by a physician every 30 days.

Second Amendment

We also passed several measures to support and promote our Second Amendment rights. Senate Bill 100 streamlines the Carry of Concealed Deadly Weapons (CCDW) permit process by allowing applicants to submit forms electronically. This will apply to both new applications and renewals and speed up the process significantly. Senate Bill 125 allows honorably discharged military veterans to waive the training requirement for a CCDW permit with proper documentation. Senate Bill 106 allows an individual who has sought a court-issued Emergency Protection Order (EPO) the ability to expedite the CCDW permitting process after a background check.

Juvenile Code

After a two-year task-force review and thousands of hours of stakeholder meetings and draft revisions, we passed Senate Bill 200, an effort to reform the state's juvenile code, particularly relating to status offenders such as truants. This bill is designed to achieve better outcomes for Kentucky's youth by involving families and reducing recidivism with earlier intervention. It also seeks to lower the amount spent on juvenile detention in the state.

Legislation Passed by the Senate that Died in the House

One of the biggest disappointments of this year was that Senate Bill 5, the "heroin bill," was stalled by the House and ultimately did not become law. There have been at least 24 deaths in Kenton County alone since the Senate passed the bill out of our chamber on January 16 of this year. I co-sponsored the bill, which would use a three-pronged approach of education, treatment, and increased penalties for traffickers to tackle the growing heroin problem in Kentucky.

Finally, for the 10th straight session, the Senate passed legislation solidifying our commitment to the unborn, only to have those pro-life measures defeated in a House Committee. I sponsored Senate Bill 3, which would have required a woman considering an abortion to have a face-to-face meeting with a doctor or designated professional to receive information at least 24 hours before the procedure– including risks of the procedure and alternatives to abortion. This would close a loophole that abortion providers have used to provide this information by a recorded telephone message. Senate Bill 8, which I co-sponsored, would have required a woman seeking an abortion to have an ultrasound and the opportunity to view that ultrasound before the procedure.

It is an honor and a privilege to serve as your Senator in Frankfort. Although this session is over, the work of the legislature will continue through monthly interim committee meetings to study, discuss, and learn more about various issues for the 2015 General Assembly. If you have any thoughts about the work we accomplished here for the past few months or want to voice your opinion about an issue for next session, please call me toll-free at 1-800-372-7181 or email at sara.gregory@lrc.ky.gov.

Clinton County's Donavan and Amanda Hatfield play the leading roles in the Good Neighbors Theater production of Barefoot in the Park in neighboring Byrdstown, Tennessee.

Final Week of Barefoot in the Park

"A bubbling, rib-tickling comedy." – said The New York Times when Barefoot in the Park appeared on Broadway. It was made into a 1967 movie with Robert Redford, who also was in the stage production, and Jane Fonda in the lead roles. The 1963 Tony-nominated comedy play by Neil Simon is about a young couple and their odd neighbors in their small apartment building in Greenwich Village, New York. It explores the troubles that newlyweds face. The Broadway production lasted nearly four years, with over 1500 performances.

Performances in Byrdstown's Good Neighbors Theatre on Highway 111 are May 8, 9, and 10 at 7:00 p.m. under the direction of Melva Nunnery.

Leading roles are played by Amanda and Donovan Hatfield. Debbie Cross and Janet Keisling share supporting actress and Paul Petrick plays opposite them in the supporting male role. Danny Thomas and Jeff Neeley round out the cast of this clever romantic comedy.

Ticket price is $12 for adults and $10 for children 3-12. Infants through age two are free if they are on a lap. Tickets are available at the Byrdstown/Pickett County Chamber of Commerce and can be placed on Will Call by calling (931) 864-7195. Tickets may also be purchased in advance in person at the Chamber Office on Highway 111. All tickets are non-refundable.

Good Neighbors Theatre has an open seating policy. Persons needing special assistance for wheelchairs/walkers should make that know when purchasing their tickets.

Unpaid tickets on Will Call not claimed 10 minutes prior to curtain are subject to resale if the audience in attendance and including the held tickets is at sold out capacity and people are waiting to buy tickets.

The Cumberland County Fiscal Court held its regular monthly meeting April 8.

During the meeting, the court approved a bid for solid waste management. Two bids were turned in before the deadline.

The first bid was from M. R. Waste of Byrdstown, Tennessee at $18 per month for residential, $10 per yard for commercial, and a monthly rental fee of $25 on all yard sizes.

The second bid was from Morrison's Recycling of Albany at $15 per month residential, $7.50 per yard for commercial, and monthly rental fee of $20 with a three percent franchise fee.

There was some lengthy discussion in regards to the length of the contract and terms of the contract and lack of a properly signed contract by the previous administration.

County Attorney Lindsey Bell advised approving a contract with Morrison's Recycling, subject to it being either a three or six-year contract and all terms of the old original contract to remain in effect until a new contract is signed. A motion was made for a three-year contract with an option to renew an additional three years by Magistrate Edward Anderson, seconded by Magistrate J.V. Groce. Voting yes were Magistrates Anderson and Groce and voting no were Magistrates Thomas Brown and Ricky White. Judge John Phelps broke the tie with a yes vote.

Judge Phelps asked Steve Morrison of Morrison's Recycling to contact County Attorney Bell and begin on the new contract.

Magistrate Thomas Brown stated that he didn't want to put an increase on the citizens. Judge Phelps explained about the rising costs of the landfills in all the surrounding areas and the gasoline increases.

Judge Phelps said he thought Morrison's Recycling was not unreasonable and also reiterated the importance of recycling to reduce future landfill usage and expense.

Burkesville City Council held its regular monthly meeting April 17.

During the meeting, Mayor Keith Riddle informed the council that the 2014-15 budget was to be presented at the May 15 meeting and asked if the council was going to give city employees a cost of living raise.

Council person Bernice Boston made a motion not to give any raises at this time due to depletion on revenues. The motion was seconded by Councilwoman Lana Owens and passed 4-1 with one abstention.

RUSSELL COUNTY NEWS-REGISTER

More than one in every 10 Kentuckians now have health care--many for the first time--thanks to the initial open enrollment period for kynect, Kentucky's state-based health benefit exchange.

Gov. Steve Beshear announced that 413,410 Kentuckians enrolled in health care coverage through kynect in its first open enrollment period, which ended March 31. At its peak in the final three days of enrollment, kynect processed more than 7,000 applications each day.

Another 30,000 individuals signed up for healthcare coverage during the April 4-11 kynect special enrollment period, a state news release said. More than 11,000 Kentuckians finalized health plan choices by the April 15 deadline, bringing to over 413,000--or the approximate combined populations of Lexington, Owensboro and Bowling Green.

"Every single individual who signed up for health insurance through kynect had a driving reason to go to that website or visit a kynector--perhaps they'd never had health insurance; they wanted insurance and couldn't get it because of pre-existing conditions; or they had been priced out of the private options available to them," Beshear said. "Kynect tore down all those barriers for hundreds of thousands of Kentuckians. It is deeply satisfying to know that nearly 10 percent of our population finally has affordable, quality health insurance that gives them the assurance that if they get sick or hurt, they'll get the care they need and they're not in danger of bankruptcy."

Surveys of kynect enrollees revealed that about 75 percent of applicants reported they had no health insurance prior to signing up for kynect.

Kynect has been hailed as a national model since its launch on October 1, 2013, for its continuous smooth operation and easy interface for users looking for affordable health coverage. Since enrollment began last fall, hundreds of thousands of Kentuckians swarmed the website and call center in search of affordable, quality healthcare coverage.

"As the famous line from the movie 'A Field of Dreams' goes, 'If you build it, they will come.' Well, we built it and they came by the thousands," said Cabinet for Health and Family Services Secretary Audrey Tayse Haynes. "In fact, Kentuckians were so anxious for the opportunity to finally have the healthcare coverage they need and deserve that the first person was signed up as soon as the site went live. Our kynect staff added more servers to expand capacity and brought on 55 more customer service reps at the contact center to handle call volume. The response has been tremendous and truly exceeded our greatest expectations."

Final days of enrollment saw a crush of people rushing to enroll. About 21,000 signed up in the final three days. Now, more than one percent of every 10 Kentuckians has health insurance through kynect--or 9.6 percent of the state's population. These figures do not include previously uninsured individuals who may have purchased health insurance outside of kynect.

Some paper publications are still being processed, so the total number of kynect enrollments will likely increase as those are completed.

Fifty-two percent of all kynect enrollees are under the age of 35. Of private health plan enrollees, 33 percent are under the age of 35. Approximately 80 percent of enrollees qualified for coverage under the Medicaid expansion with the remaining 20 percent purchasing a private insurance plan. Of those who purchased private insurance plans, 72 percent qualified for some level of premium assistance.

Seventy-five percent of Kentuckians who purchased a private insurance plan through kynect selected the Kentucky Health Cooperative as their insurer with the remaining 25 percent equally divided between Anthem and Humana. Currently 68 percent of those who enrolled in a private insurance plan have paid their first month's premiums.

These statistics reflect activity on kynect as of April 21:

* 413,410 Kentuckians are enrolled in new health insurance.
* 330,615 have qualified for Medicaid coverage.
* 15,427 individuals who qualify for traditional Medicaid have undergone a required annual recertification since April 1, which is now handled through kynect.
* 82,795 have purchased private insurance.
* 52 percent of all kynect enrollees are under the age of 35.
* 1.5 million unique visitors viewed 57.7 million kynect web pages.
* 886,502 individuals conducted preliminary screenings.
* 22,147 have enrolled in stand alone dental plans.
* 1,605 small businesses have started applications for employee coverage; of those 628 businesses have completed applications and are eligible to offer coverage to employees.
* 839,398 calls have been handled by the kynect contact center.

The next open enrollment period beings Nov. 15 for coverage effective Jan. 1, 2015. Individuals may apply for Medicaid at any time.

Only those individuals who experience a qualifying event, such as the loss of employer-sponsored health insurance coverage, will be able to purchase private health plans outside of open enrollment.

Upon recommendation of school superintendent Michael Ford, board members voted to designate the proceeds from the sale of Union Chapel to match funding from the Kentucky Education Technology System and a donation from Duo-County Telecom to address the district's technology needs.

The vote allows for the $137,500 received for the auction sale of the Union Chapel Elementary building and grounds to be added with $129,049 from KETS and $25,000 from Duo-County to upgrade all schools technological needs.

Ford said that some of the funding would be allocated per district needs to programs such as the gifted and talented program and alternative school needs with the majority being split between the schools on a per student basis.

Wayne Roberts will be the next superintendent of Wayne County Schools. He was hired Monday night, April 28 by the Wayne County Board of Education following an executive session that lasted approximately 45 minutes.

Roberts is currently assistant superintendent of the Wayne County School District and has served in that capacity under John Dalton for approximately eight years.

His contract as superintendent will begin June 1 and will continue through June 30, 2016.

Eight of the nine members of the school board voted in favor of hiring Roberts. Board member Larry Muse did not vote.

Roberts' salary was set at $100,000 annually.

Roberts, an alumni of Wayne County High School, is currently in his 31st year of employment with the district.

Over the years, he has served the district in a variety of capacities, including Director of Transportation, Assessment Coordinator and Coordinator of Federal Projects.

"I am thankful and appreciative to Wayne County Schools for giving me the opportunity to work here 31 years and to work with the children of this county. I love my home and I love my school," said Roberts. "I look forward to this opportunity to continue to work for my school and for the children of this county."

Roberts was selected from a slate of five candidates who were recommended to the board by the screening committee which reviewed all applications.

The board interviewed Roberts, Director of Pupil Personnel Allen Clark, Wayne County High School Principal Brian Dishman, Director of Instruction Winona Griggs, and SIITS Coordinator Donnie Neal in a series of interview that were conducted over two nights.

Dalton will retire on May 31 as Wayne County Superintendent.

The body of what some officials suspect may be that of a missing Science Hill woman was discovered in rural Wayne County on Wednesday, April 23.

No identity or cause of death had been released for the woman, pending autopsy results from the State Medical Examiner's Office.

The Pulaski County Sheriff's Department has confirmed that investigators have been searching for a missing Science Hill area woman for about three weeks.

Officials indicated that the elderly woman may not have been seen for several months.

The investigation into the missing persons report led a Pulaski County deputy to Brammer Hill Road in Wayne County last Wednesday, where the body was discovered at about 3:49 p.m.

Kentucky State Police Detective Billy Barnett heading up the investigation. He was assisted at the scene by Detective Billy Correll.

No other details had been released regarding the incident. The body was taken to the State Medical Examiner's Office, and the autopsy was conducted on Friday, April 25.

The identify of the person had not been released as of press time Monday, April 28.

The man charged with murder in connection with the April 21 shooting death of Gavin Thompson entered a not guilty plea during an arraignment held in Wayne District Court on Wednesday, April 23.

Ian T. Miller, 21, of Elmira, New York, was appointed a public defender during the proceeding. Bond was set at $250,000 cash or property.

A preliminary hearing in the case was set for Thursday, May 1 in Wayne District Court.

Miller was arrested and charged with murder late Monday night, April 21 by Kentucky State Police.

The shooting incident occurred at approximately 3 a.m. April 21 at Thompson's residence on North Highway 1275 near the entrance to Rogers Grove Road.

Thompson, 38, was shot an undetermined amount of times, according to Wayne County Coroner Forrest Hicks. Thompson was transported from the scene to the Wayne County Hospital emergency room where he was pronounced dead at 4:55 a.m.

An autopsy was performed in Frankfort a week ago Monday.

Kentucky State Police Detective Billy Correll is heading up the investigation, which is continuing.

THE HERALD NEWS

William D. Chesher celebrated his 63rd birthday behind bars on April 21 and appeared before Circuit Judge Phil Patton a week ago Tuesday, April 29 for final sentencing. Chesher was convicted in a three-day trial in March for the June 4, 2013 murder of local businessman Ronnie Joe Hiser, 58, at the Hiser home on Glasgow Road.

After deliberating nearly three hours the jury returned a guilty verdict and recommended a sentence of 15 years for first degree manslaughter and an additional three years for tampering with physical evidence as Chesher tossed the murder weapon into a nearby pay lake.

Chesher's attorney, public defender Greg Berry, asked judge Patton to consider changing the sentence from being served consecutively to concurrently. Commonwealth Attorney John Gardner responded that this was the sentence the jury came back with and asked Judge Patton to honor their recommendation.

The judge agreed, noting that Gardner would be given credit for the 323 days he has already served and that he has the right to appeal the verdict.

Attorney Berry responded he already has the paperwork ready to file. The case will go to the Kentucky Court of Appeals for consideration.

TIMES JOURNAL

Russell County High School Laker basketball coach and Athletic Director Willie Feldhaus has resigned from his coaching position after nine seasons at the helm for the Lakers but will remain on as AD, he said last Monday.

Feldhaus, the 2008-09 and 2009-10 KABC 4th Region Coach of the Year, was 174-86 in his nine years as coach of the Lakers with five 16th District Tournament championships and four 16th District Tournament runners-up.

He guided the Lakers to the regional tournament in each of his nine seasons and was the 4th Region Runner-up in 2012-13. His record at RCHS head coach stands at 174-86 with four 20-win seasons, including a 26-6 record in 2012-13.

Feldhaus said the change was due in part to a transfer in his wife Katie's territory as a pharmaceutical sales representative. The transfer within her company now takes her to a different area that encompasses Louisville and counties surrounding it, where she, and their two daughters, will be moving.

"I've done this for 26 years and I think it is pretty good timing to help me decide what I'm going to be doing next year after I step away from it for a year to see if I still have the urge to coach or see if I want to go a different direction as far as a job in the future," Feldhaus said. "I think we've had a really good nine years. It was greater than what I imaged it would be."

He said his biggest thanks goes out to the kids who have played for him the past nine years.

Feldhaus said the school district is currently accepting applications for the head coaching job and hopes to have a coach in place for summer basketball.

Feldhaus will continue his duties as Russell County Athletic Director.

primary, with not only several county races on the ballot, but a closely contested state senate race in the district as well in the GOP race.

The voting machine in the clerk's office will be open through the close of business on Monday, May 19 and persons needing to vote via a paper absentee ballot have until next Tuesday, May 13 to request a ballot be mailed. Voted ballots must be returned to the clerk's office not later than election day.

Persons eligible to vote by absentee ballot are the elderly or those with medically related problems that prevent them from getting to a polling place on election day.

Booher would also like to remind some residents about the recent magisterial redistricting.

Every 10 years after a U.S. Census is conducted, federal and state reapportionment laws require counties to reapportion and redistrict according to the population. Since the 2010 Census, Clinton Fiscal Court approved the new reapportionment lines of the magisterial districts in Clinton County that was presented to them by the County Reapportionment Committee.

After local approval and approval by the State Board of Elections and Legislative Research Commission, the local County Boards of Elections was required by federal and state law to move voters affected by these changes to their correct magisterial district and precinct.

Booher said that all those voters affected by the change and who will be voting in a new location this year have been notified by mail. However, she noted that anyone who has any questions or concerns should call the clerk's office at 387-5943.

elevation guide that rises in the spring, with spring rainfall and reaches elevation 723 on May 15, then slowly draws down through the summer and fall. This curve is designed to ensure an adequate level of water for continued hydropower production throughout the year.

Wolf Creek Dam is generating with all six hydropower units in an attempt to bring the elevation back down as quickly as possible to the upper SEPA curve while still considering downstream water level conditions.

Because of the limited volume of water that can be discharged through the Wolf Creek hydropower units, and the large inflows into the lake, the lake continues to rise.

Randy Kerr, a civil engineer in the Nashville District's Water Management Section, cautions visitors to the lake to be careful as flows will be higher than normal and debris could be an issue.

"As we manage the most recent rain event, we want everyone to be extremely cautious as water runoff subsides," Kerr said. "The water levels have risen back to normal this spring, which is great news as the recreation season kicks off."

Clinton unemployment drops in March but remains in double-digits

Just as quickly as the local jobless rate took a big jump early in the year, there was a hefty decrease in the rate just a month later. Although the rate dropped considerably, it remained in double-digits and higher than both the national and state averages.

In February, Clinton County's unemployment rate rose to an even 13 percent. However, the March rate had dropped by some 2.7 percent, standing at 10.3 percent for the month, the fourth highest in the 10-county Lake Cumberland area.

Unemployment statewide and in the Lake Cumberland area decreased overall from February to March.

The Lake Cumberland district rate was 9.9 percent, down from 11 percent in February and three tenths of a percent lower than the March 2013 rate of 10.2 percent, according to the Kentucky Office of Employment and Training, an agency of the Kentucky Education and Workforce Development Cabinet.

Taylor County recorded Lake Cumberland's lowest rate at 7.9 percent while 14.7 percent was the highest, recorded in McCreary County.

Other jobless rates in the area included: Adair County, 8.8 percent; Casey County, 9.1 percent; Cumberland County, 11.2 percent; Green County, 8.6 percent; Pulaski County, 9.9 percent; Russell County, 10.6 percent; and Wayne County, 12 percent.

Unemployment rates fell in 69 Kentucky counties between March 2013 and March 2014, while 43 county rates went up and eight counties stayed the same.

Boone County recorded the lowest jobless rate in the Commonwealth at 5.7 percent. It was followed by Cambpell County, 6.3 percent; Kenton County, 6.4 percent; Gallatin County, 6.7 percent; Grant, Oldham and Shelby counties, 6,8 percent each; Simpson, Warren and Woodford counties, 6.9 percent each.

Jackson County recorded the state's highest unemployment rate--19.3 percent. It was followed by Magoffin County, 17.1 percent; Leslie County, 17 percent; Harlan County, 16.8 percent; Letcher County, 15.8 percent; Bell County, 15.2 percent; Knott County, 15.1 percent; McCreary County, 14.7 percent; Menifee County, 14,3 percent and Clay County, 14.1 percent.

Unemployment statistics are based on estimates and are compiled to measure trends rather than actually to count people working. Civilian labor force statistics include non-military workers and unemployed Kentuckians who are actively seeking work. They do not include unemployed Kentuckians who have not looked for employment within the past four weeks. The statistics are not seasonally adjusted because of the small sample size for each county. The data should only be compared to the same month in previous years.

Kennedy had been shot one time in the abdomen. He was flown to the UK Medical Center in Lexington where he was treated for his injuries.

Police then began a hunt for the suspect and later, using the local S.O.R.T. (Special Operations Response Team), arrested Blaesing about two hours later at a residence on Hopkins Street in Albany and charged him with first degree assault and lodged him in the Clinton County Jail.

Sheriff Riddle said at the time of the incident that a 357 Magnum, the suspected weapon in the shooting, had been found and appeared to have been fired one time.

A motive for the shooting was not given.

The grand jury returned several other indictments last week, some involving persons charged on multiple counts. The following true bills were handed down in open Circuit Court:

* David B. Brown was indicted for alleged theft by unlawful taking or disposition (four counts) and one count each of third degree burglary and criminal trespass second degree, when on or about February 10, the defendant took or exercised control over property belonging to four separate individuals, each having a value of over $500 but less than $10,000; remaining unlawfully in a building belonging to someone else with the intent to commit a crime, all Class D felonies and remaining in a carport belonging to someone else without permission, a Class B misdemeanor.

* Jesse Phillips and Shannon Herald were each indicted for alleged theft by unlawful taking or disposition (two counts) and one count each of third degree burglary and criminal mischief first degree, when on or about January 25, the defendant took or exercised control over property belonging to two separate individuals, each having a value of over $500 but less than $10,000; remaining unlawfully in a building belonging to someone else with the intent to commit a crime and intentionally damaging property of another, causing a loss of more than $1,000, all Class D felonies.

* Rhonda Aaron was indicted for alleged controlled substance endangerment to a child fourth degree, when on or about January 4, she allowed two minor children to be present when illegally manufacturing a controlled substance or methamphetamine... that placed a child in danger of serious physical injury or death, a Class D felony.

* Betty S. Anderson was indicted for alleged criminal mischief first degree when on or about April 15 the defendant destroyed or damaged property belonging to someone else, causing a loss of more than $1,000, a Class D felony.

(Editor's Note: An indictment is a statement of probable cause to believe an offense has been committed and further court proceedings are warranted. Those individuals named in an indictment are presumed innocent unless proven guilty in court.)

Corps offers tours of Dale Hollow Lake Power Plant

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Nashville District is offering the public free guided tours of the Dale Hollow Power Plant in Celina, Tenn. Not all portions of the dam will be accessible to the public due to safety concerns.

Approximately 45 minutes in length, tours are scheduled for 10 a.m. May 17, 2014

Tour size is limited and is on a first-come, first-served basis. All guests including minors are required to submit a request form at least five days prior to the tour and receive confirmation from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Nashville District.

Registered tour participants will be required to check in at the Dale Hollow Power Plant reception area approximately 15 minutes prior to the designated tour time where they will receive a brief introduction prior to beginning the tour.

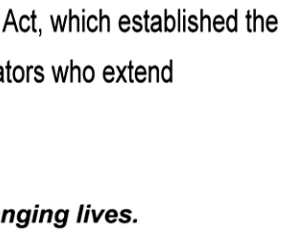

In addition to the guided power plant and lock tours, Corps Park Rangers will be available from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Resource Manager's Office to answer questions and conduct a brief presentation on the many benefits that Dale Hollow Lake provides. Registration is not required for access to the Resource Manager's Office.

Jerry
HICKS
Republican Candidate For County Judge Executive

My fellow citizens of Clinton County,

Often when folks encounter Clinton County from the outside looking in, it is easy to presume that everyone knows everyone else. While there is a level of truth to this statement, as many times we do know "of" one another, I do not simply want to make the assumption that you know who I really am. My name is Jerry Hicks. I am running for County Judge Executive. I am the husband of Melba Shelley Hicks, the father of five children, and have been blessed with twelve incredible grandchildren. I am a member of the Albany United Church of the Nazarene. I have served as Master Commissioner for Clinton County. After several years as a heavy equipment operator, I was privileged to serve the people of Clinton County as the County Road Supervisor from 2002 to 2006. It is my hope to bring my experience of building and development to achieve the goals and hopes for the people of Clinton County. My name is Jerry Hicks, and I would appreciate your vote and support for County Judge Executive.

Thank you,
Jerry Hicks

To the People of the 6th District:

I'm Mickey Riddle, one of the candidates you can choose as your magistrate in the May Primary. Most of you know me as a businessman. I am reliable and I treat people fairly. I would conduct myself the same in the office of magistrate. If re-elected, I will support any progress for our county, but my first responsibility will be to you, the people of the 6th District. I will always look out for your best interests and listen to your concerns before making important decisions, just as I have in the past.

I will NOT push aside the people in my district for politics!
I will be a
"Magistrate for the People."
Your vote and support will be appreciated.

Clinton County Judge Executive

Hello Friends, Neighbors and Voters of Clinton County,

It is my pleasure to serve as your County Judge/Executive. During my time as judge/executive, our county has witnessed significant growth in the local economy with new job creation and businesses establishing themselves in our community. From businesses such as Dollar General Market and Sonic to Cobb/Ventress, Fitzgerald Trucking and Blue Grass Stockyards, we see positive growth and opportunity in our community. With the completion of the US 127 Bypass, improved roadways and the natural gas pipeline expansion on KY 90, I believe there are many more opportunities ahead. Also, with the water level of Lake Cumberland returning to its original depth, our county is in a position to take advantage of tourism and recreational economic opportunities the lake provides. Our county has accomplished a great deal of progress in a relatively short period of time. I am honored to have worked on these projects and it is my hope to continue to work for you and our county to promote growth and opportunity.

I humbly ask for your vote and support on Tuesday, May 20th to continue to work for you and help our county achieve its growth and opportunity potential.

For continued growth and economic development for the future of Clinton County.

Albany Post Office carriers remind customers Saturday is Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive Day

Every second Saturday in May, letter carriers from the Albany 42602 Post Office join with more than 10,000 cities and towns across America to collect the goodness and compassion of their postal customers, who participate in the NALC Stamp Out Hunger National Food Drive — the largest one-day food drive in the nation.

Led by letter carriers represented by the National Association of Letter Carriers (AFL-CIO), with help from rural letter carriers, other postal employees and other volunteers, the drive has delivered more than one billion pounds of food the past 20 years.

Carriers collect non-perishable food donations left by mailboxes and in post offices and deliver them to local community food banks, pantries and shelters. Nearly 1,500 NALC branches in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands are involved.

USPS and Campbell Soup Company are major supporters. Campbell Soup earmarked an additional one million pounds of canned food to the drive. Other supporters are AARP, Feeding America, Publix, Valassis/Red Plum, Cox Target Media and Valpak Direct Marketing Systems, which promotes the drive on 40 million packets delivered to postal customers.

The drive also relies on the backing of the National Rural Letter Carriers Association, the Feeding America food bank network, the United Way of America and its local United Ways, the AFL-CIO Community Services network, Uncle Bob's Self Storage and countless local sponsors.

To donate, just place a box or can of non-perishable food next to your mailbox before your letter carrier delivers mail on the second Saturday in May. The carrier will do the rest. The food is sorted, and delivered to an area food bank or pantry, where it is available for needy families.

With more than 50 million people facing hunger every day in America, including nearly 17 million children, this drive is one way you can help those in your own city or town who need help.

The Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive has received a number of accolades over the years, including two Presidential Certificates of Achievement.

Clinton County ATC students raise money for 'Pennies for Patients'

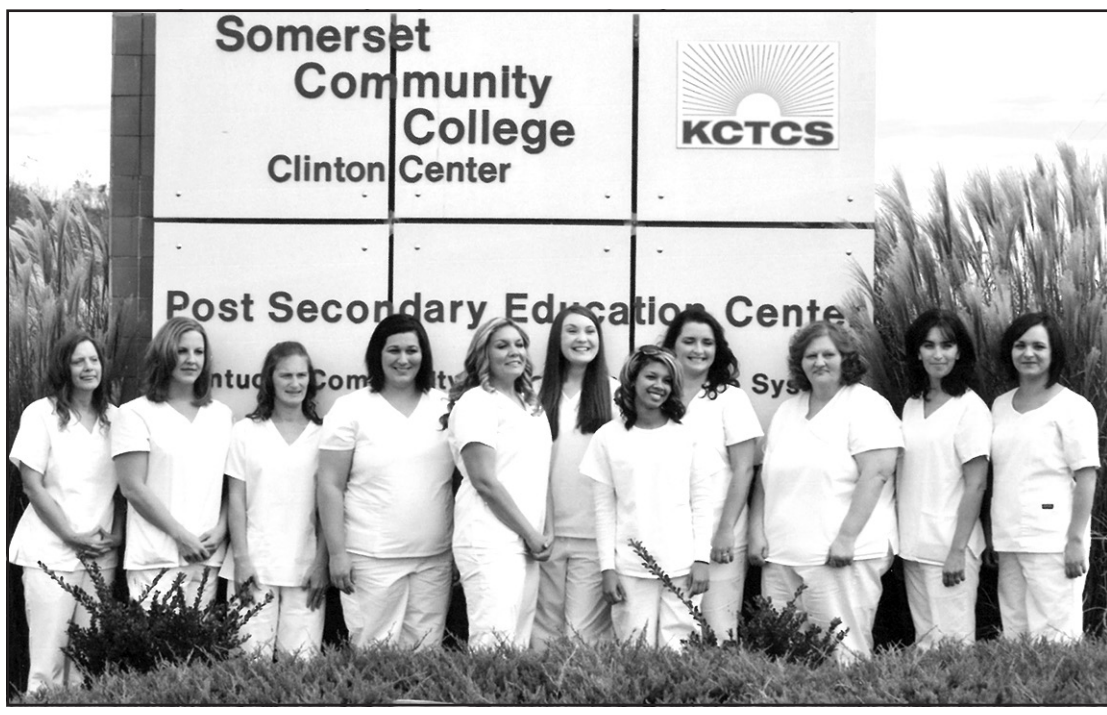

The students in the Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA), Advisor Billie Frye, RN; Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA), Advisor Teresa Giles; and SKILLS USA Advisor Jason Harlan, at the KY Tech Clinton County Area Technology Center raised $100.19 for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society's Pennies for Patients' fundraiser.

This fundraiser is to help persons suffering from blood cancers such as Leukemia and Multiple Myeloma. This is an excellent opportunity for the students to assist others who are in need of medical support.

The Affair at Travisville Civil War Educational Bivouac

Be sure to mark your calendar! People have asked many times, "When are you going to do another Re-Enactment/Bivouac?" Well, that time is May 16-18, 2014!

The Friends of Cordell Hull, Good Neighbors Theatre and The Borderlands Foundation will be hosting The Affair at Travisville Civil War an Educational Bivouac at the Pickett County Horsemen's Association Fairgrounds and Cordell Hull Birthplace and Museum State Park (located just off of Cordell Hull Memorial Dr. near Byrdstown, TN). Don't miss it! You never know when this chance to take a look into this historic area of local history will happen again.

Friday, May 16th is reserved for local school groups to come and tour the encampment and learn about local Civil War history. For those who don't know, Pickett County, the Travisville Community more specifically, holds the distinction of being the spot of the first military action during the Civil War in Tennessee. There were many skirmishes that took place in the area during the Civil War, plus loads of local lore. It may seem hard to believe today, but during that time, this area was a major travel route. General Sherman's scouts crossed the river near Eagle Creek in Pickett County while looking for a shorter route eastward. These events hold quite a story to be shared and will be shared as is possible during the event. Saturday, May 17th and Sunday, May 18th are open to anyone wishing to attend. There will be a small admission charge ($5/person with 10 and under admitted free) on these two days to help offset the costs associated with the event.

Several stations will be set up to teach more about various aspects of Civil War history, such as artillery, cavalry, medical, daily life, and more. Saturday will feature an interpretation of the skirmish that took place at Travisville over 150 years ago. This exercise is planned to take place at 3:00 p.m., complete with mounted cavalry, cannons, and more. Sunday will be morning church service, followed by daily life and a battle at 2:00PM.

Lots of cannon fire is planned for each day, so come prepared. Period vendors will be on hand. Come prepared to have a great time.Prepare for a beautiful spring day and bring your lawn chair for comfort in case you would like to "sit a spell". www.AffairatTravisville.com

Soil compaction in the garden

Source: John Strang, extension horticulture specialist

Gardening season is in full force with the threat of frost now behind us. It's a good time to think about your soil. Soil compaction creates an unfriendly growing environment for plants and is a serious problem for many home gardeners. However, it is relatively easy to prevent.

Compaction transforms soil into a difficult environment for plant growth by making it harder for roots, water and soil to penetrate the ground. Major causes are working the soil when it is too wet, foot traffic and excessive rototiller use.

To reduce this problem, it is best to avoid working in the garden or walking in it when the soil is too wet. Squeeze a handful of soil and if it forms a muddy ball, rather than crumbling when you open your hand, stay out of the garden area.

Walk between plants and rows in the garden area to reduce compaction in primary plant growth areas.

Excessive rototiller use destroys soil structure and promotes compaction. When compaction takes place in a dense soil structure, it also makes root growth more difficult.

A little hand hoeing, rather than a rototiller, may be all you need to do to eliminate a few weeds. It usually causes less soil damage than repeated rototilling and is less harmful to the earthworms that help aerate the soil.

You also can use mulch to control weeds instead of tilling. A 2- to 3-inch layer of mulch relieves the pressure of walking on the soil, reducing the degree of compaction.

Republican Candidate - #3 on the Ballot
For Clinton County Judge Executive

BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE

I feel that some folks have forgotten the meaning of this historic statement. I am going to give the county back to the people. I think there are three important ways of doing this:

1. Communication
2. Transparency
3. And Above All Else Is Efficiency

Thank you,

A scratch, a second guess and a pocket full of change

Last week's Kentucky Derby was a far cry from the 2013 rain ridden day at Churchill Downs.

The 2014 event went off without a hitch - unlike the start of Friday's Oaks race - and for a change, but not the first time, I must say my Derby picks have resulted in a little jingle in my pocket.

Still, I think I'll keep my day job and leave the horse handicapping to the experts.

As I noted last week, my favorite two picks were to be the odd-on favorite, California Chrome, and Hopportunity. However, just before I contacted a friend who frequents the tracks much more often that I do to place my bets, one of my two choices - Hopportunity - scratched due to a problem with a foot.

So, back to checking the horses, jockeys and what other little tidbits I know about looking over a racing form, and I then decided to go with my next favorite jockey, Calvin Borel, who is up on Ride On Curlin a 15-1 horse.

Later on Friday, while mowing some grass and listening to sports talk radio and interviews with Oaks trainers, another horse came up a time or two and it seemed to be the consensus that if California Chrome didn't win, this horse was being greatly overlooked.

After another glance at the entries, the horse in question, Commanding Curve, is entered as a 50-1 shot, so my three bets of $10 each go down on California Chrome, Ride On Curlin' - both to win, and a third bet on Commanding Curve - to show.

As soon as Saturday's race was over, since we were entertaining some guests and realizing that California Chrome had easily won and earned me a little pocket change paying, I flipped the TV off and continued with a conversation we had begun prior to the start of the race, thinking nothing of the rest of the finish.

It wasn't until I received a phone text of congratulations that I started looking for the finish order only to discover that my long shot pick - Ride on Curlin', had actually finished second, paying off more on my modest wager than the first place finisher.

Like I said - I think I'll keep my day job, but still, a pocket full of change is better than throwing away losing tickets any day.

Sports in Kentucky

Heroes? We must search harder these days; Calipari at pinnacle place?

Unhappy is the land that is in need of heroes

– Bertolt Brecht

Sport in America today requires we search a little harder, be more selective, for genuine heroes. Considered the mountains of money and cynical judgments of Donald Sterling in Los Angeles and parade of self-righteous howling critics, who could blame the fan on the street from throwing up his/her hands in disgust. Yet, heroes can be found every day, most every place.

This week, a handful of qualifiers.

1. California Chrome. In 2008 the Derby winner's mother, Love That Chase, was bought for a pittance, $8,000. Then Steve Coburn and Perry Martin bred their mare to a $2,000 nag ... uh, stallion. An investment that moved another trainer to call Coburn and Martin dumb asses for even getting into horse racing.

Coburn and Martin used the scathing criticism to name their operation DAP Racing. Dumb Ass Partners produced a foal to be named California Chrome.

Heroic, seems to me, to spin insult into self deprecating humor (DAP) into Kentucky Derby success story.

2. Jon Hood. University of Kentucky graduate tweeted followers last week: "I leave this great university in less than a week for good. It has meant the most to me over the past five years. Given me so many memories. I love UK and couldn't be happier about the relationships I formed and what we accomplished as a team."

3. Wisconsin center Frank Kaminsky will return to the Badgers next season. "I'm at the pinnacle of my basketball playing career, at least in my eyes," he blogged. "I know the NBA has (its) crazy fans and all, but if you look at their games, there are games when teams like the Bobcats get hardly any fans, and it looks flat out boring."

"At the Kohl Center, we play in front of nearly 17,000 fans every single time we step onto the court. When we travel, we play in front of sell out crowds who absolutely hate us. Not because of who is on the team, but because of where we go to school. Who could leave that?"

COMMENT: NBA flat out boring? I like it.

4. Tod Lanter, Brian Long and Sam Malone. Kentucky men's basketball was well represented on the Southeastern Conference honor roll for winter semester. Junior-to-be Alex Poythress is on his way to a degree in accounting; Jarrod Polson earned a degree in Finance/Marketing.

But the go-to-guys on this Wildcats team were Lanter, Long and Malone. Walk-ons, they were stars who carried the team to 3.0 GPA and All-SEC honors.

5. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. In a Time Magazine editorial about the Donald Sterling flap, Abdul-Jabbar reminded the self-righteous among us about certain truths. "Shouldn't we be equally angered by the fact that his private, intimate conversation was taped and then leaked to the media?" he wrote. "Didn't we just call to task the NSA for intruding into American citizen's privacy in such an un-American way?"

COMMENT. Abdul-Jabbar's access to high places – Time Magazine and ABC-Television to air his views, is a reflection of how far most Americans have come with racial issues.

That one rich white man (Sterling) can generate such self-righteous rage across the sports spectrum is peculiar on its face.

America. I love this place.

CALIPARI'S PINNACLE PLACE

In a matter of weeks, and before their 21st birthdays, Johnny Manziel ... Jabari Parker ... Julius Randle will be our newest multi-millionaires. A place (too) many Americans consider the summit of success.

If I were choosing a person standing squarely at a pinnacle place in life today, it would be John Calipari.

Kentucky's ball coach is on R&R these days after hip surgery. A respite that gives the 55-year-old coach pause to peer down from his summit and evaluate treasure and where he is in life.

√ Bonus money added to more riches than he can spend in a lifetime.

√ Book gone up the best seller list.

√ Nerve and clout enough to suggest the NCAA let him have a hand in solving some of basketball's (play for pay) problems.

√ Courted by the most storied sports franchise this side of the Celtics, the Los Angeles Lakers.

√ Resume` includes an NCAA title, two more Final Fours and more market potential than Rick Pitino ever enjoyed at Kentucky.

√ To know his next team is ranked No. 1 in the nation before practice balls are tossed out at Craft Center ... again.

√ Recruiting for next year is already in the hands of a new guy with quick lips, named Slice.

√ Transcending all these things for Calipari, all of them – health and family.

Epilogue: A warning looms also as job demands and pressure Calipari.

√ Much as John Wooden became prisoner to success and despised his Wizard of Westwood title, Calipari has R&R time to reflect on his legacy also.

Even as he tries to walk back from the label, almost certainly it will include a not-so-endearing term.

Let's see ... Adolph Rupp: Der Baron, Man in the Brown Suit; Joe B. Hall: Joe B.; Rick Pitino: Man with Midas Touch; and John Calipari: One and Done.

WORTH REPEATING DEPT.

Sophomore-to-be at Kentucky Derek Willis was succinct enough when he tweeted the other day: "I am not transferring or leaving Kentucky! Quit bothering me about the situation . It is annoying and untrue."

And so it goes.

Racket Dawgs host Allen County

Above, Zach McFall served the ball during his singles' match against Allen County/Scottsville Thursday. He won his match, 6-2 and 7-5. McFall also played in the regional tournament this week and eventually made it to the third round of regional play before being defeated. Below Keisha Patrick returned a ball during her singles match. She won 8-0. Clinton County hosted it's final game of the 2014 season.

Monday night scramble

The winners from Monday night's scramble at 76 Falls Country Club were Donnie Sewell, Mark Jenkins, Larry Ferguson and Doug Thrasher.

Mike Gibson harvested this turkey on May 3, 2014, while hunting in Clinton County. It weighed 19 pounds with a 10 and a half inch beard and three-quarter inch spurs.

Richard York killed this turkey Sunday while hunting with Howard Cross. It weighed 21.5 pounds with a 10 and a half inch beard and one inch spurs.

Thomas Oesterreicher killed his first turkey Saturday in Cumberland County while hunting with his dad, Josh Oesterreicher. It had an 11-inch beard and weighed 27 pounds.

National Day of Prayer held Thursday

More than 70 people were on hand Thursday for the National Day of Prayer event held on the square in downtown Albany.

The event started with a 21 gun salute by Hull-York Memorial Chapter 5 DAV Honor Guard, right, followed by several comments by NDOP Coordinator Tiffany Peters. The Praise and Worship portion of the event was handled by Albany First Methodist Church and a candlelight service concluded the ceremony.

Federal guidelines to require Commercial Driver's License medical exams by certified providers

New rule aimed at increasing safety on roadways

The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) will soon require drivers with Commercial Driver's Licenses (CDL) to be examined by medical professionals whom it has certified.

The new safety rule, which begins this month, pertains to health care professionals who perform medical examinations for interstate truck and bus drivers. It requires such providers to be trained, tested and certified on the specific physical qualifications that affect a driver's ability to safely operate the vehicle. The FMCSA final rule also creates a national online database of certified providers.

"Highway safety has been, and continues to be, our highest priority," said Rodney Kuhl, Commissioner of the Department of Vehicle Regulation in the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC).

"The men and women who operate commercial motor vehicles are critical players in our highway safety effort. It is in the public interest to do what we can to ensure that those operators are medically fit to drive," Commissioner Kuhl said.

FMCSA developed the National Registry of Certified Medical Examiners final rule as part of the agency's commitment to enhancing the medical oversight of interstate drivers and preventing commercial vehicle-related crashes, injuries and fatalities. This rule addresses National Transportation Safety Board recommendations on comprehensive training for medical examiners and tracking of driver medical certificates.

Beginning May 21, 2014, all new CDL drivers or those needing to renew their medical certificates must obtain an examination from a certified medical examiner. A Department of Transportation medical exam involves checking a range of conditions to determine a driver's medical fitness, including cardiovascular disease, respiratory and muscular functions, vision and hearing.

All commercial drivers must pass a Department of Transportation medical examination at least every two years in order to obtain a valid medical certificate, maintain a CDL and legally drive a commercial motor vehicle.

Kentucky has about 150,000 CDL holders, including operators of commercial motor vehicles over 26,000 pounds, federally placarded hazardous material vehicles, school buses and other vehicles that can carry 16 or more passengers. Information about the National Registry of Certified Medical Examiners and a list of certified professionals in every state can be found at https://nationalregistry.fmcsa.dot.gov.

#1 on the Ballot
Hello, my name is Mark Thrasher, Democratic candidate for County Judge Executive. I have been married to Allison Parrigin Thrasher for over twenty years. We have three daughters, Ashton, Raegan, and Holdin. I have always been a resident of Clinton County. I believe living in Clinton County should not be for convenience but we should all be dedicated citizens in our home town and work to improve for everyone's benefit. With three young children, it is important to me to make Clinton County a better place to live, work, grow, and enjoy our beautiful community.

Students and faculty at Clinton County Area Technology Center celebrated Career and Technical Education Month during the month of February, 2014. This month-long celebration recognized the importance of CTE across the state of Kentucky and across the country. This year's national theme for the month-long celebration was "Celebrate CTE Superheroes". Mayor Nicky Smith and Judge Lyle Huff visited the school on Tuesday, February 20, 2014 and signed a proclamation designating February 17-21, 2014 as Career and Technical Education Week.

Kentucky Tech--Clinton County Area Technology Center is committed to seeing that students are prepared to succeed in high-demand occupations within the 21st Century's competitive global economy. The Career Pathways offered at the ATC grant students the opportunity to receive industry certifications along with the opportunity to earn college credit while still in high school. Students enrolled in CTE classes have the advantage of learning in a project-based environment focused on advancing their technical skills while preparing for the demands of the 21st Century workplace.

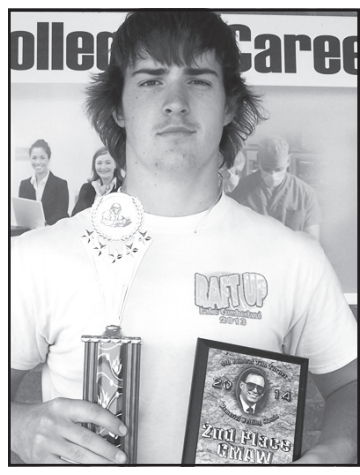

The career pathways offered at the ATC include rigorous academic and relevant technical concepts that lead students to receiving an industry certification by their senior year. Strong partnerships with local businesses and industries in the community allow students to experience various work-based learning opportunities.

Kentucky Tech-Clinton County Area Technology Center currently offers five Career Pathways for Clinton and Cumberland County students in grades 9-12. The pathways include: Health Sciences, Billie Frye; Electricity, Jerry Bell; Carpentry, Jason Harlan; Welding, Jesse Burchett; and Office Systems Technology, Teresa Giles.

For more information about career and technical education programs provided at Clinton County Area Technology Center, please contact Stesha Flowers (606) 387-6448.

Albany Masonic Lodge #206 will host

"Meet the Candidates Day"

on May 10th, 2014
at 10:00 a.m.

Festivities will take place on Jefferson St., between First and Farmers Bank and the Klassic Shop.
If you have any questions and concerns of the candidates, or current officials, now is your chance to address them.
There are several candidates running for office this election year.
We are inviting and challenging ALL candidates who are seeking election to attend on this day also.
There will be inflatable play houses, slides, and an obstacle course free of charge for all children under the age of 10.
Also, the dunk booth will be on hand, and throughout the day multiple county officials and candidates seeking election will be on the booth, waiting on that perfect throw that gives them a cool dip in the water, all in good fun of course!
Food, drinks, coffee and snacks will be available all day, along with Masonic Informational Packets, which will be given to the public for a bit of insight on who we are, what we do as Freemasons for all who may be interested.
In case of inclement weather, the date will be moved to the following Saturday, May 17th at 10:00 a.m.

American ship Mayaguez seized

May 12, 1975

The American freighter Mayaguez is captured by communist government forces in Cambodia, setting off an international incident. The U.S. response to the affair indicated that the wounds of the Vietnam War still ran deep.

On May 12, 1975, the U.S. freighter Mayaguez and its 39-man crew was captured by gunboats of the Cambodian navy. Cambodia had fallen to communist insurgents, the Khmer Rouge, in April 1973. The Cambodian authorities imprisoned the American crew, pending an investigation of the ship and why it had sailed into waters claimed by Cambodia. The response of the United States government was quick. President Gerald Ford called the Cambodian seizure of the Mayaguez an "act of piracy" and promised swift action to rescue the captured Americans.

In part, Ford's aggressive attitude to the incident was a by-product of the American failure in Vietnam. In January 1973, U.S. forces had withdrawn from South Vietnam, ending years of a bloody and inconclusive attempt to forestall communist rule of that nation. In the time since the U.S. withdrawal, a number of conservative politicians and intellectuals in the United States had begun to question America's "credibility" in the international field, suggesting that the country's loss of will in Vietnam now encouraged enemies around the world to challenge America with seeming impunity. The Cambodian seizure of the Mayaguez appeared to be just such a challenge.

On May 14, President Ford ordered the bombing of the Cambodian port where the gunboats had come from and sent Marines to attack the island of Koh Tang, where the prisoners were being held. Unfortunately, the military action was probably unnecessary. The Cambodian government was already in the process of releasing the crew of the Mayaguez and the ship. Forty-one Americans died, most of them in an accidental explosion during the attack. Most Americans, however, cheered the action as evidence that the United States was once again willing to use military might to slap down potential enemies.

Edison sues over motion-picture technology

May 13, 1898

On this day in 1898, Thomas Edison sues the American Mutoscope Company, claiming that the studio has infringed on his patent for the Kinetograph movie camera.

Thomas Edison, born in Ohio in 1847, had already invented the phonograph, the light bulb and other important technologies by 1887, when he moved his Menlo Park, New Jersey, laboratory to Orange, New Jersey. In Orange, Edison entrusted his assistant, W.L.K. Dickson, with the development of a new machine that could capture moving images. Dickson designed the Kinetograph, a camera that used celluloid film advanced by a sprocket that fit into square perforations running along the film, as well as the Kinetoscope, which projected moving images in a single-viewer peep-show format. Edison first publicly demonstrated the machine in 1891.

Edison realized the financial drawbacks of the peep-show format and contracted rights to a camera developed by two of his assistants, Jenkins and Armat, called the Vitascope. The Vitascope was publicly displayed in 1896 in a New York vaudeville hall. After Dickson helped Edison's competitors develop another motion-picture device, which would eventually become the mutoscope, Edison fired him. With Harry Marvin, Herman Casler and Elias Koopman, Dickson later founded a new movie company, American Mutoscope (later renamed American Mutoscope and Biograph, and then simply Biograph). In the lawsuit filed in May 1898, Edison accused the company of stealing his work; it was one of many infringement lawsuits he would file. In 1902, the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that Edison did not invent the motion-picture camera, but allowed that he had invented the sprocket system that moved perforated film through the camera.

In 1909, Edison joined forces with other filmmakers to create the Motion Pictures Patents Corp., an organization devoted to protecting patents and keeping other players from entering the film industry. The courts later found the organization to be an unfair monopoly, and in 1917 the Supreme Court dissolved the trust. By the following year, the Edison Company had abandoned the film industry.

Federal number sought for Highway 35

Senator E. P. Warinner, Harvey Qualls and R. D. Honeycutt represented Albany and Clinton County on Thursday night of last week at the Wolf Creek Dam Highway Association.

A special meeting was called at Danville by Atty. P. Joe Clark to rush through plans for a federal highway number on Highway 35. Attempts are being made to pick up U. S. Highway No. 127 which starts at Flint, Mich., and comes to a dead end at Cincinnati. By following Highway 25 a short distance out of Cincinnati to Dry Ridge, Ky., U. S. 127 can be continued through Kentucky. Plans would have the highway end at Chattanooga, Tenn.

A delegation from Jamestown, Tenn., attended the meeting and are now working on Jamestown, Crossville, Dunlap, Pikeville; and Chattanooga. They will attempt to organize the Tennessee end.

On Thursday and Friday of this week a motorcade will leave Danville and go all the way to Chattanooga. It will include Senators Morris C. Montgomery and Ed Warinner, former Sen. Otis C. Thomas, P. Joe Clark Some 50 delegates will probably have joined the motorcade when it reaches Chattanooga for a dinner meeting.

Senators Montgomery and Warinner have been working on the federal number and assured the Danville dinner gathering from eight counties that the federal number was almost certain. Sen. Warinner said "It's up to the Tennessee counties to see that the road continues on to Chattanooga." Warinner said it was two hours closer from Cincinnati to Chattanooga now under bad conditions.

Sen. Montgomery described the nine miles of highway now under construction in Casey County. It is a Class A road with 100 foot of right-of-way. Plans for the future call for a by-pass of Liberty. About five miles north of Liberty are being surveyed. Casey's part of the road has been a bottle-neck since the bridge over Cumberland River was completed.

"The State Highway Department is heart and soul behind Highway 35," said President P. Joe Clark.

12 enroll at Eastern

College enrollment at Eastern Kentucky State College reached a total of 1488 for the spring semester 1953-54. Twelve students from Clinton County are enrolled at Eastern this spring. They include Thomas Milton Bertram, freshman; Roxie Eva Brown, senior; Billy P. Hay, senior; Edwin Gayle Smith, freshman; Kaye Burchett Wade, senior; Josephine Brown, senior; Otis Russell Brown, senior; Willadean Cross, junior; Mareda Sell, junior; Elsie Beatrice Sell, junior; Lucy Angele Sell, junior; and Doris Sidwell Vineyard, senior.

Correct posture poster winners

Cumberland and Clinton counties are very proud of these fine young citizens, winners in the Correct Posture Poster Contest sponsored by the Kentucky Association of chiropractors., Inc. Mary Bertram was the first prize winner in Clinton County; James William Spencer, first prize in Cumberland County; Virginia Ann Landrum, second prize in Clinton; and Frances Ferguson, second prize in Cumberland County.

Miss Aaron wins Beauty Contest

Miss Faye Aaron was crowned "Miss Clinton County" in the beauty contest Friday night sponsored by the Younger Woman's Club. Faye was sponsored by Owens Motor Co.

A bouquet of roses and an engraved loving cup was presented to the winner.

Shirley Mackey (second place winner), Marquerite Dyer, Maureen Wilborn, and Geraldine Ferguson were selected as the queen's court. Shirley will be Clinton County's entry in the Russell County Fair since the age limit will not permit Faye to enter.

The winner of the adult group in the talent contest was Marguerite Dyer, who played a piano solo. Rita Smith sang, "Never Been Kissed," and "I Wonder" to win first prize in the children's group.

The club wishes to thank all who participated in the contests in any way.

Cow College registration open

By Aimee Nielson

This summer, beef producers will get an opportunity to learn from University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, Food and Environment specialists and industry partners in a series of interactive sessions.

Cow College is an intensive, hands-on course for experienced beef producers. It's designed to expose them to the most cutting-edge techniques and ideas related to beef cattle production and business. The program is divided into four, two-day sessions and one single-day session in July, August and September.

"Our approach is always driven by the end product with an emphasis on quality and efficiency in every aspect of production and business of beef cattle," said Land Dale, UK beef extension associate. "This takes our UK Master Cattleman program to the next level."

Sessions will focus on economics and management July 9-10; forages and nutrition July 22-23; herd health on Aug. 8; reproduction and genetics Aug. 28-29 and the end product Sept. 11-12.

Participants will also take home several resources from the sessions including:

· Beef information database on a searchable CD ROM of research and info
· UK Beef/Forage database on a searchable CD ROM
· Backgrounding spreadsheet program
· Breeding spreadsheet program
· Ration balancing program
· Partial budget templates for decision making
· Kentucky Beef Book
· IRM calendar
· Southern Forages book
· Pocket Forage ID Guide
· KYBEEF pasture budgeting program

All sessions will take place on the UK campus in Lexington, and enrollment is limited to 30 participants to maximize the amount of hands-on exposure and time for one-on-one interaction with specialists. Participants must be graduates of the UK Master Cattleman program.

The total cost for all five sessions is $125 or $50 for individual sessions. Registration is due by June 1, and spots will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. To enroll, please visit http://www.uky.edu/Projects/BeefIRM/downloads/mcandcowcollegeforms/cowcollegereg.htm.

ELECT
Josh
Bowlin
DISTRICT
6 MAGISTRATE
Don't Just Vote, VOTE For A Positive Change
Paid for by Josh Bowlin, Albany, KY 42602

ELECT
BILLY K. SMITH
Magistrate - 2nd District

To the voters of Hayes-Maupin and Nora Precincts:

During the past several weeks, I have had the pleasure of visiting with many of the citizens of the 2nd District. I want to thank each of you for your hospitality and friendship shown to me while campaigning. I have tried to see everyone, but for anyone I have missed, I would like to take this opportunity to ask for your vote and support on Tuesday, May 20th. If elected, I will use my own judgment, study both sides of each issue carefully with honesty and fairness, and vote for what I believe to be in the best interest of the 2nd District. It was an honor to serve as your magistrate for two terms from 2003 to 2010 with perfect attendance at all meetings. I ask for the privilege to represent and work for you again.

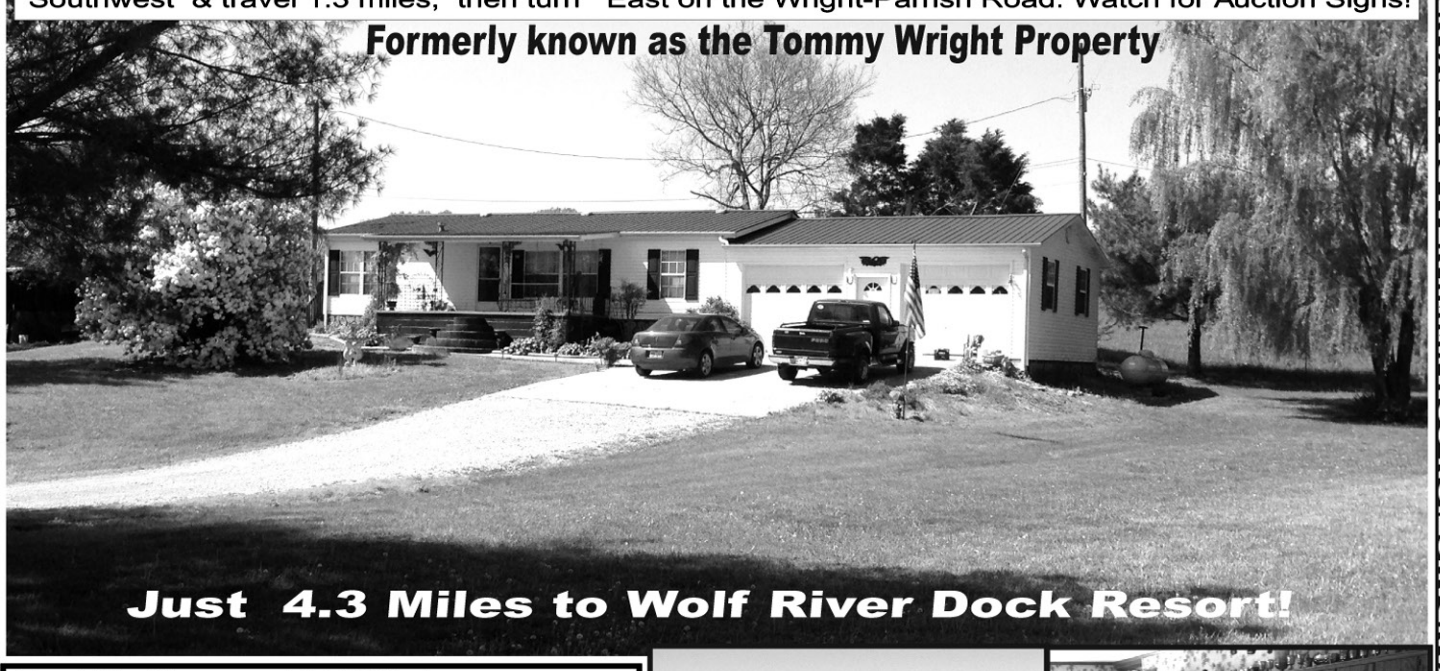

On May 20th Go To The Polls
Vote & Elect
BILLY K. SMITH
Magistrate 2nd District

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor,

There is a mouse who lives in an old house on Albany's south side of town. This mouse could tell us all how Jonah felt when he was released from the belly of a whale. This mouse was released from the mouth of a dog named Baby Ruth.

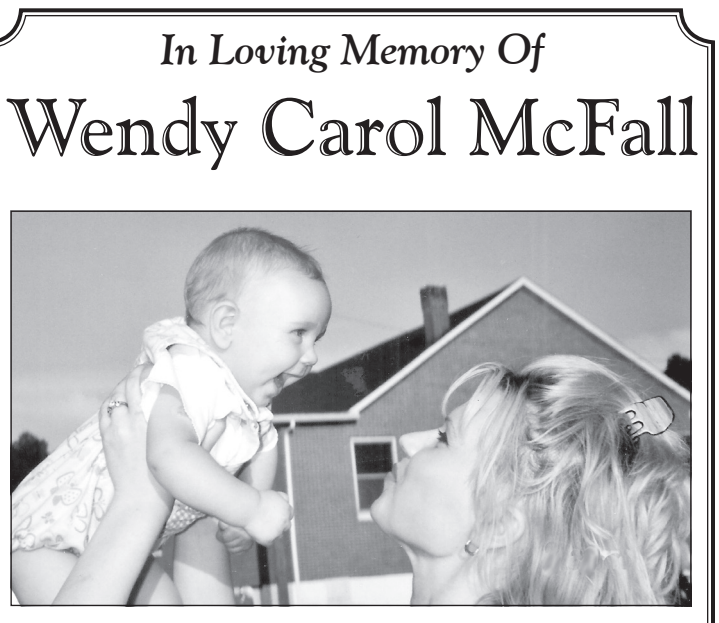

Baby just wanted to play. She had no interest in harming anyone.

Jonah's refusal to do a job given him by God caused God to need to make a point. God had no interest in harming anyone.

OBITUARY

Dudley Jefferson Conner

Dudley Jefferson Conner, age 77, of Frankfort, Kentucky, a native of Albany, Kentucky, passed away on May 3, 2014 in Louisville. He was the son of the late William Warner Conner and Minnie Dicken Conner.

He was a 1954 graduate of Clinton County High School and a graduate of Berea College. He received a Masters Degree in 1961 from the University of Minnesota School of Public Health and also a Masters in Public Administration from Eastern Kentucky University.

Mr. Conner spent his career working in public health and served as Executive Director of the Kentucky Public Health Association and was a past president of the Southern Public Health Association.

He is survived by his wife, Betty Williams Conner, formerly of Clarkson, Kentucky, a daughter, Tonya Rager of Lexington, Kentucky, a son, Timothy Conner of Jacksonville, Florida, two granddaughters, three grandsons and several cousins in Clinton and Russell counties. Mr. Conner was preceded in death by a brother, Donald Conner.

Visitation was Tuesday, May 6, 2014 from 5 to 8 p.m. at Harrod Brothers Funeral Home, 312 Washington Street, Frankfort, Kentucky. On Wednesday, May 7, 2014, there was visitation from 1-2 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 211 Washington Street, Frankfort, services immediately followed at the church. Pallbearers are: Irving Bell, Edward Burke, Collin Conner, Dylan Conner, Charles Geveden, and Bruce Lane. Honorary Pallbearers are: Richard Bell, Robin Caney, Robert Doris, Fred Goins, Robert Holliday, Arthur Kelly, Robert Newberry, and Leon Townsend.

Interment was in the Frankfort Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, expressions of sympathy in Dudley's name may be made to Kentucky Public Health Association Scholarship Fund, P.O. Box 4647, Frankfort, Kentucky 40604 or First United Methodist church Building Fund, 211 Washington St., Frankfort, KY 40601.

Arrangements are under the direction of Harrod Brothers Funeral Home; condolences may be shared via the online guest book at www.harrodbrothers.com.

VS. NOTICE OF SALE

BILLY G. MILLER, et. al. DEFENDANTS

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Clinton Circuit Court entered in the office of the Clinton Circuit Court Clerk on May 1, 2014, in the above styled action, the undersigned Master Commissioner of the Clinton Circuit Court will sell at public auction, on May 23, 2014, at 10:00 a.m., at the west door of the Clinton County Courthouse, Albany, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described real property lying and being in Clinton County, Kentucky, with said properties being more particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning on a P.K. nail set in the center of the drain at the forks of the branch, being the most westerly corner of Janice Mason, deed book 53, page 105, said point also being a corner to Sandy Tallent, and Roger talent, thence with the center of the branch for four (4) calls as follows: S 58 36' 00" E --- 15.45 feet S 36 58' 14" E --- 77.04 feet, S 37 38' 11" E --- 53.06, S 58 04' 02" E --- 41.52 feet to a P.K. nail set at a ledge of rocks, being a corner to Janice Mason, and being a new corner to the lands of the grantor, thence, still severing said lands N 76 02' 34" W --- 84.05 feet to an iron pin set in the center of said road for three (3) calls as follows: N 50 44' 06" W --- 51.56 feet, N 27 37' 37" W --- 26.28 feet, N 50 44' 06" W --- 33.44 feet to an iron pin set in the center of said road, being a corner to the lands of Sandy Tallent, thence leaving said road with the line of Sandy Tallent, N 24 56' 31" E --- 257.46 feet to the beginning and containing 1.01 acres by survey. Actual field survey performed by J.A. Staton, P.L.S. #2603, on 7-6-94. The basis for the bearing being from magnetic observation. This survey is subject to any easements and/or right-of-ways which may affect the same.

Being the same property conveyed to Billy G. Miller & April Miller by deed from Eunice E. Tallent, Kenny Stinson & Theda Stinson, dated July 23, 2003, and of record in Deed Book 123, Page 519, in the office of the Clinton County Clerk, Albany, Kentucky.

The successful bidder or bidders may elect to pay the purchase price in full at the time of the sale or be required to pay one-third (1/3) of bid purchase price down on the date of the sale and balance of purchase price will be due and payable on or before 30 days from the date of the sale with interest thereon at the rate of 12% per annum; however, the purchaser may pay all or part of the purchase price prior to the maturity with all accrued interest due at the time of the said payment. If the sale be had on credit, the purchaser shall execute and deliver to the order of the Master Commissioner, his or her bond due and payable in 30 days, bearing interest at the legal rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from date of sale until paid, with good and sufficient surety thereon and said sale shall likewise be secured by a lien upon the said property sold, which shall have the same force and effect of a judgment and said bond with acceptable surety shall be executed immediately after the sale; upon default of the terms of said bond the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property on the same terms and conditions set out herein.

The 2014 and subsequent property taxes shall be paid by the Purchaser.

HON. NORBERT H. SOHM
